

Schiff's 13th Annual Environmental Film Festival

Independent, Inspiring Films in our Woodland Theatre

Saturday, June 4, 2022 (Rain date of Sunday, June 5, 2022)

After watching a series of short films focusing on the balancing act involved in suburban/urban development and the environmental impacts we need to carefully consider, Chris Neff, Director of Communications at NJ Audubon Pollinators and Mendham's own local photographer and environmentalist will facilitate a discussion to inform us of how we might influence local development.

Schiff's Environmental Film Festival (EFF) is a true local community event that our members, neighbors, and friends look forward to year after year. The EFF showcases important environmental education topics and is a great opportunity for local businesses and organizations to get their products, services, and messages in front of an audience of Schiff guests, members, and volunteers. When you sponsor the Film Festival, your business will be seen by:

- Approximately 50 Film Festival attendees.
- Hundreds of additional people who see our event flyers, posters, and social media posts. And/or visit the dedicated website page on Schiff Nature Preserve's website.
- Thousands of unique website visitors interested in conservation, preservation, and environmental education.
